You can help us make sure that all content on ResearchGate remains high quality by reporting inappropriate or irrelevant comments, project updates, and questions and answers. Inappropriate content includes material that is:

- Considered offensive to another researcher
- Unrelated or irrelevant to a research item
- Spam or other commercial content
- Generally of low scientific quality, or a duplicate of other content

For instructions about reporting specific types of content, please click on the relevant link above.

Once content is reported, Community Support investigates and takes appropriate action.
