How do I find relevant questions on Q&A?

ResearchGate's Q&A recommendations take your unique set of skills and expertise into account to present you with the most relevant discussions in your field – you can find these questions under Questions we think you can answer on the left-hand side of your Q&A overview page. Make sure you keep your research skills and expertise up to date to get the best recommendations.

You can also browse questions and answers using the other three filters: Recent questions in your field, Questions you follow, and Questions you asked. You can also search ResearchGate to find more questions.

Now that I've asked a question, where can I see it?

To see all of the questions you've asked, go to the Q&A overview page and select Questions you asked on the right-hand side. You can also see a list of all the questions you've asked by going to your profile's Research tab and clicking Questions on the left-hand side.

Where can I see the answers I added?

You can see the answers you've added to other researchers' questions by going to your profile's Research tab and then filter for Answers on the left side of the page.
